1. INTRODUCTION

Prostitution or prostitution is a form of social disease which must be stopped from spreading, without neglecting prevention and improvement efforts. The word prostitution comes from the Latin pro-stituere or pro-stauree, which means to allow oneself to commit adultery, commit adultery, fornication. While prostitutes are prostitutes or prostitutes. Also known as WTS or prostitutes. Immorality or immorality is defined as; less civilized because of sexual relations, in the form of surrendering to many men for sexual gratification, and getting services or money in return for services. Prostitutes can also be interpreted as: immoral acts or failure to conform to moral norms.

In society, the life of a commercial sex worker is something that is not acceptable. Until now there are those who view prostitutes as having negative views, and are considered inappropriate to be part of society. They are always under pressure from society, even when they are part of society. They are always under pressure from society, and even become the subject of ridicule and ridicule because they always want to stand out for them .

Then if you look at the real life, many of the prostitutes were forced to work as WTS because of economic pressure. Some came from poor families, some were abandoned by their husbands, while their children had to keep eating, some were because of a grudge against their husbands, some were forced to be approved by their husbands because their necessities of life were not fulfilled, while their husbands were slacking and lazy to work. Therefore, in this life we should not corner and demean the life of a WTS, let alone say that they are the eternal hell expert group.

The number of prostitutes operating in Bandar Baru Village cannot be ascertained, this is because some of the prostitutes in Bandar Baru Village do not report to the kelurahan, or are often called illegal. In the past, there were around 200 registered prostitutes in the urban village, but only 80 registered prostitutes. The prostitutes in Bandar Baru currently live and mingle with the local community. Generally they live in the northern part of the village to the end of Bandar Baru which is located higher than the community settlements, where they live commonly called "barracks" or they live in hotels and work closely with hotel owners.

2. RESEARCH METHOD

This research is an exploratory research with a qualitative approach, which in this study, the researcher uses a case study. This case study is used to find out more about the daily life of WTS. A case study or case study is a research method that is carried out intensively, in detail, and in depth about a case, social phenomenon or specific social unit. Case in this case can be interpreted as a concept, activity, time, object (the work of someone), policy, social class, organization, country, region, case, or other specific phenomenon. Case studies focus on describing the case and analyzing it so that it can produce new findings (Martono, 2016; 295).

The data analysis technique used is qualitative analysis, in general, data analysis is a useful stage for translating research data to make it easier for readers to understand in general. Researchers will conduct data analysis after the data collection process is complete.

3. RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS

3.1 Economic Life of Prostitutes (WTS) at Hotel Florida

Perhaps that is most of the reason the three prostitutes gave to the researchers. Economic demands that cannot fulfill the basic life of WTS because the WTS interviewed are all widows who have children from their previous marriages, ex-husbands cannot fulfill their responsibilities as a father to their children, so these WTS have to fight very hard. work hard and earn money quickly and practically for the survival of themselves, their families and their children by lying to their relatives and children that they (WTS) have a decent job instead of claiming to work as prostitutes (WTS). Poverty, children and families are their strong reasons to keep doing this work even though sometimes they complain of pain, loneliness, crying and feeling helpless about their current situation. Not to mention the daily necessities while earning a living, such as eating, drinking, toiletries, and to preen themselves to lure guests for money. They have to be smart about how to set aside their money for their own needs and be able to send money to children and families who are far away in the eyes, not to mention the youths who come to them to ask for security money for their safety in earning a living. Not to mention the money tip for Anjelo who takes them to clients at the hotel where they stay, or to other hotels or karaoke places that ask for their dating services, they have to be prepared 24 hours, according to the wishes of guests who want to date WTS. 3.2 Social Life of Prostitutes (WTS) at Hotel Florida

Most of them used to live in barracks and most of the three prostitutes couldn't stand living in the barracks and switched to living alone and chose the Florida hotel on rent like the other guests. Because of the sense of security and comfort that makes the WTS on average to stay almost a year in the Florida hotel. Because friendly and caring owners and workers make them (WTS) feel at home in hotel Florida. Because they are also looking for income in the Florida hotel. So that almost every time they (WTS) spend in Florida hotels. From the morning they spend resting, by noon they are busy cleaning themselves, dressing and doing other things. Towards evening until night, they began to dress up beautifully, some of them dress up in salons near where they live, some of them dress up alone because they can make up on their own. Towards the middle until the morning they wait for calls from guests or from Anjelo as their picker to customers.

As for guests who come and ask for a date in the morning, therefore their work is actually done from morning to night depending on the request of guests who want to date them. There are also WTS who are adults who choose to only serve at night because many WTS are still young, therefore adult WTS are looking for safety and don't want to cause noise with young WTS. For example, Sis Marsha's relationship with co-workers, Ms. Marsha said that Ms. Marsha and her friends were fine but it was possible that her friends had been jealous of her, many were sweet upfront but often told behind her back, but Ms. Marsha responded with relaxed without having to repay the actions of his friends. Because Marsha is aware that fighting with fellow WTS will not benefit anyone, because indeed they have a goal to make money, so that no matter how bad her friends are, Kak Marsha just stays calm and forgives them. As for Sasha's relationship with her friends, Sasha said that her relationship with her friends was just that, because Sasha had been sick, from her face to her feet suddenly damaged, and Sasha believed that it was the work of her friends women at night, so that Sasha is more often alone in her room, and reduces interactions with other women at night. It's different again with Kak Via who is even more selective in finding friends, because of her knowledge about the vulnerability of drug distribution among women of the night.

3.3 Social Culture of Prostitutes (WTS) with fellow WTS

Because many prostitutes come from different regions and have different characteristics but have the same goal, many WTS choose to be friends rather than rivals, although it is undeniable that some feel rivaled or rivaled by fellow WTS. Therefore, conflicts between fellow WTS are also unavoidable, but there are those who think that if their intention is to make money, they will definitely stay away from misunderstandings that lead to conflicts between WTS. WTS who are in the Florida hotel are not the types of women who like to be extravagant and selfish, but because the reason behind their plunging into the world of prostitution reminds them of their real situation, so that they help each other and arrange schedules so that there are no misunderstandings with fellow WTS. they exist but there is also a reason because their living culture (WTS) is glamorous, extravagant and just for fun (sheer lust), so not infrequently many upper-class WTS also do this work, but not a few women the lower classes do it because they want to be like the upper class prostitutes, they will look for other pleasures and earn by selling themselves and end up in Bandar Baru.

3.4 The life of prostitutes (WTS) in the vortex of drug trafficking

The association between WTS is also not far from the issue of drugs, according to information, drug trafficking in Bandar Baru, including among WTS and their families, drugs are one of the weapons when WTS is tired and feeling stressed, as for the husbands of WTS who use and are already heavy addicts, even their husbands bravely force their wives to do drugs. work as WTS for the fulfillment of their husband's drug habits, so they have to bury their self-esteem, because their husbands do not provide a living, they are looking for money for their survival and their husbands' inappropriate habits.

3.5 Social Life of Prostituted Women (WTS) with the Surrounding Community

Even though the community does not support or expressly rejects it, still It's just that society views the problem of prostitution only from the point of the prostitute, prostitutes are insulted, cursed and despised. Whereas in a series of prostitution activities, at least pimps are involved, then there is another one that consumers should not forget. Actually, if the community understands the problem of WTS, they are actually victims of the poverty of life they live and are forced to do this work to improve their lives, maybe the community can understand a little, and not look down on or contempt for WTS, and also guide WTS to get out of business the dark. Because it is also the hope of WTS to immediately repent from their work but they are unable to get out, because of their economic condition.

4. CONCLUSION

Based on the results of research conducted, the lives of prostitutes in the village of Bandar Baru, especially prostitutes who are in the Florida hotel. Based on the description of life according to Oscar Lewis, namely: Economic Life of Prostituted Women (WTS) in Florida Hotels Poverty, inability to meet basic and additional needs, and there are no special skills to do the available work, and choose to be separated from their husbands, and the family economy cannot help them get out of the poverty trap of deprivation, so women who choose to be separated from their husbands and do not have the skills to meet the requirements to work, they thinking about how to get money quickly and instantaneously, it is one of the factors for a woman to enter a muddy life and a stained honor which is always considered a job that is condemned by society, migrates from faraway areas for dreams and maintains the survival of themselves (WTS), family and children far away. Perhaps that is most of the reason the three prostitutes gave to the researchers. Economic demands that cannot fulfill the basic life of WTS because the WTS interviewed are all widows who have children from their previous marriages, ex-husbands cannot fulfill their responsibilities as a father to their children, so these WTS have to fight very hard. work hard and earn money quickly and practically for the survival of themselves, their families and their children by lying to their relatives and children
